
Publishing a Topic

Publish a topic instantly makes the content live on your documentation site. If the site is accessible by your users/customers, ensure that you review and finalize the content before publishing a topic.

There are multiple ways to publish a topic.

Publishing from the editing environment

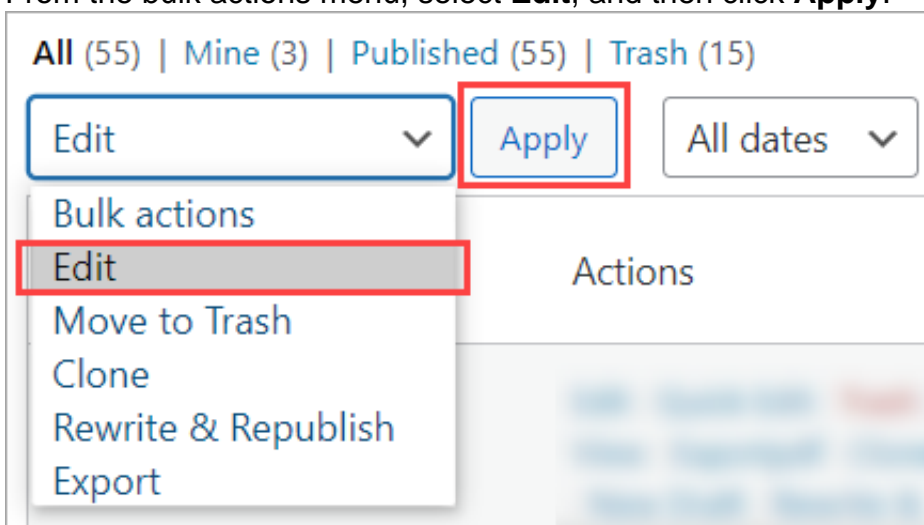

1. Open a draft topic in the edit mode. See Opening a topic in Edit mode.
2. Make any content changes if you wish, and then click Publish.

Publishing from the Documentation list (Single/Multi Publish)

Publishing from the documentation list allows you to publish single or multiple topics at a time.

1. Go to Documentation > All Documentation.
2. Select one or more topics to publish.
3. From the bulk actions menu, select Edit, and then click Apply.

4. From the Status drop-down, select Published, and then click Update.
